Update on on Lubber Run Amphitheater

An update on plans for the Summer 2019 season at the Lubber Run Amphitheater tops the agenda of the AFCA monthly meeting on Wednesday, January 16th, at 7 pm in the Barrett School Library. Josh Stoltzfus, deputy director for Arlington Cultural Affairs/Arlington Arts, and representatives of the Lubber Run Amphitheater Foundation will make presentations and answer questions. See the article below for details.

Looking ahead, County Board Chair Christian Dorsey will speak at the February AFCA meeting and School Board Chair

Reid Goldstein at the March meeting. The April meeting will include a Farmers Market update and May is the picnic and annual membership meeting.

Finally, the results are in from our fall dues drive that requested $10 from each household to support AFCA's activities. A total of 326 of the 851 households in Arlington Forest (38 percent) paid their 2018-2019 dues. Some 88 residents took advantage of the online payment option which was first offered in fall 2017.

Culture and Community Under the Stars

By Chris Scheer

Arlington's "Hidden Gem", the "Jewel in the Forest" – call it what you will, the Lubber Run Amphitheater has been an integral part of the Arlington Forest neighborhood since opening day on July 19, 1969 and continues to be a focal point for culture and community.

Judging from last year's robust attendance and Arlington County's continuing support of free summer programming at this unique open-air venue, interest in the amphitheater by both audience and performers is growing. Arlington Foresters will hear about County plans for the amphitheater at AFCA's January 16th meeting.

Guest speaker Josh Stoltzfus, deputy director for Arlington Cultural Affairs/Arlington Arts in the Department of Economic Development, will discuss the role of arts and culture in Arlington's economic development and focus on how the Lubber Run Amphitheater fits in.

Stoltzfus is responsible for selecting performers for the amphitheater and will discuss the booking process. He has expanded the variety of programming during the past few years and will outline County objectives regarding attendance as well as operational limitations.

Board members of the Lubber Run Amphitheater Foundation will discuss the role of this grass-roots, tax-exempt organization founded by Arlington Foresters a few years ago to promote restoration of the amphitheater to a full schedule of free summer performances. The foundation advocates for County and resident support for the amphitheater, funds performances aimed at families and children and provides information about the amphitheater to the public.

The foundation accepts tax-free donations throughout the year. Donations can be made on the foundation's Facebook page at www.facebook.com/Lubberrunamphitheater. Just click on the blue "donate" rectangle at top right of page. Foresters can keep up with amphitheater news on Facebook and find a complete schedule with descriptions of the programs at <https://arts.arlingtonva.us/lubber-run/>.

Space often fills up before the deadline.

County Projects Update

Lubber Run Community Center: The final walls of the 1956 Lubber Run Community Center were taken down on December 1st (see photo). The next steps are excavation for the foundation and the pouring of concrete. Construction of the $48 million new community center will continue through 2019 and conclude in 2020. For more info, search "Lubber Run Community Center Project" on the County website.

Edison Park: The County Board in November approved proceeding with the $1.08 million Edison Park Project funded by Arlington Forest's Neighborhood Conservation Program. Existing play areas will be renovated: a play area for children ages two-to-five, another for ages five-to-twelve, and an area with swings. New furnishings, fencing, and a gate separating the playgrounds from the street will be installed, along with ramps, railings, and walls to improve accessibility from the street and to the park trail. Native plants will be added, and storm-water management improved.

The next step is the Edison Park Design Working Group Meeting on Wednesday, February 13th, at 7:00 pm in the Barrett Elementary School Library. Residents are invited to attend to review the County's concept plans and provide input. The final concept design is scheduled to be voted on by Arlington Forest residents at the AFCA monthly meeting on April 24th. For more info, search "Edison Park Project" on the County website.

The original tot-lot playground was built in the late 1970s after years of advocacy by neighbor Mary Alice Glover. Previously, the site was a parking lot.

Carlin Springs Bridge: Construction continues on the $7 million new bridge and its approaches. The project is expected to conclude this spring. For more info, search "Carlin Springs Bridge" on the County website.

AFCA Holiday Party

A neighborhood tradition as old as Arlington Forest found a new home December 7th at Barrett Elementary School as Santa greeted scores of Foresters from a blaring, flashing Arlington fire truck at the Arlington Forest Holiday Party.

Santa was mobbed as he got off the truck and made his way into the school's all-purpose room where he was greeted by more excited kids and camera-toting parents. Santa took his throne and heard each child's holiday hopes and wishes while kids and grownups visited tables laden with holiday treats.

Festive holiday music was provided by Holiday Party veterans Chris Bosch (bass) and Ken Schellenberg (keyboard). Barrett Elementary School Girl Scout Juniors led by Lauren Kent helped Santa with the kids and sang Christmas songs. Ann Barbour and her mother Jocelyn ran the craft table which sent many children home with their personal tree ornaments. Jocelyn remembered taking Ann to see Santa at Forest holiday parties held long ago in the "Holly Circle" across from the shopping center.

Special thanks to Fire Station 2 night crew chief Kevin Pachas and Forester Mark Riley who made sure Santa arrived on time; and to Barrett Elementary School staff, especially the janitors. Thank you to Donna and Richard Simpson for helping prepare the goody bags for the children. Finally, thanks to Santa's special helpers Bob and Mary Strawn, Allison Kennett, and John Naland. As he has for more than two decades, Chris Scheer organized the party.

Home Renovations and Return on Investment

When upgrading your home, you can focus on maximizing resale value or personal preference. Getting value out of a remodel project isn't always about price and resale. You can purchase a reasonably priced brand names at Lowes or Home Depot or make a personal choice for a higher end appliance, which might not recoup as much of the cost upon resale. To help you prioritize, think about how long you'll live in the home after the renovation. If it's less than 5 years, resale should be a higher priority. If you'll be there for 12+ years, personalization can make more sense.

Remodeling.com conducts annual studies on resale values of various renovation projects, with findings that show returns of 50-80% of their value upon resale (contrary to what HGTV might suggest). According to the Remodeling 2018 Cost vs. Value Report (www.costvsvalue.com), a high performer in the DC area is a wood deck addition, a 99.5% return on an $11,254 investment, where a composite deck yields 75% with a cost of $18,266.

Another popular project is the minor kitchen remodel at 86% return (I have obtained much higher numbers in some cases) on a cost of $22,180 vs. a $64,514 major kitchen remodel with a 64% gain. Remodeling strictly for resale focuses on congruency along with timing and your budget. Part of my consultation with any prospective seller is to discuss goals and timelines with the right upgrades. One of our clients recently earned $40,000 more on their home sale thanks to the right renovations. They wanted to know whether to sell "as-is" or put money into improvements. We recommended minor updates and turned a $15,000 investment into a $40K profit.

Do you have questions about remodeling for the long term or short term? I would be glad to share some proven strategies and show you how to maximize your bottom line to get your home sold for top dollar in the shortest amount of time on the market.

Call or email me with questions and we can confidentially discuss solutions for your situation. Happy New Year!

Around the Forest

A Small Victory: There are storm drains on either side of the trailhead at the foot of N. Greenbrier Street. One drain never clogs with leaves while the other is perpetually clogged, causing stormwater to flow over the curb and eroding the hillside and trail shoulder. The design of the two drains is identical except that the clogged drain had three vertical iron bars across its opening. It was around those bars that the leaves got stuck. Nearby neighbors do twice yearly park cleanups in the area that includes digging out the clogged entrance. But last month, a neighbor who was tired of digging out the drain contacted the Department of Environmental Services asking them to cut out the vertical bars. The County promptly complied, and that storm drain has not clogged since.

Snow Watch: If you will be away anytime this winter on work or vacation travel, please make contingency plans now to keep your sidewalk clear of snow and ice. A low-cost option is to utilize "Kids for Hire" on page 10 to find an energetic neighborhood student to assist. The safety of your neighbors depends on adhering to the County code which requires clearing snow and ice from sidewalks within 24 hours after snowfall ceases (within 36 hours if snowfall exceeds 36 inches). Despite the 24-hour rule, the County urges shoveling "as soon as possible" since snow and ice left for any length of time could cause a pedestrian to fall and be injured.

Yard Sale: Cold winter days are perfect for cleaning out closets, the basement, and attic in preparation for Arlington Forest's long-running annual Community Yard Sale. This year's event will be on May 18th. With around 40 Arlington Forest households participating each year, the event attracts many bargain hunters drawn to the convenience of cruising through one area to visit many sales.

Recycling Tips: Do not place your recyclables in plastic bags. Items enclosed in plastic bags are discarded at the sorting facility which does not have time to open plastic bags to determine if they contain recyclables or trash. Also, never include loose plastic bags such as grocery sacks in the recycle cart as they can jam the sorting machinery. Place cans, bottles and other recyclables loose in the blue cart. Finally, packing peanuts, bubble wrap, and plastic air pillows are not recyclable. Go online to see: <https://recycling.arlingtonva.us/residentialbrochure> (pages 9-11).

The Empty Nest

By John K. Naland

When our family moved to Arlington Forest 20 years ago, we were a young couple with two preschoolers. Today, our daughters are far away at college, leaving my wife and me as empty nesters. That changed last April 14th when I looked in our back yard and saw two barred owls perched in our holly tree.

Day after day, those two large owls sat there during the daytime. They flew off in the evening, presumably to hunt for food. Although it was nesting season, they sat side-by-side on the tree branch all day long; with neither of them departing to visit or sit on a nest.

I was perplexed by this behavior until a neighbor said that an early-April wind storm had knocked down a large tree containing an owl nest near the Glencarlyn Dog Park. I presume that our owls were a mating couple occupying that nest, along with their eggs or hatchlings which did not survive the tree's fall. The two owls then sought refuge in our holly tree which, unlike many other trees in early spring, has spikey evergreen leaves that offer protection from blue jays and other birds that do not welcome the arrival of large predator birds.

For over a week, the two owls sat side-by-side inches apart. Then, having perhaps come to terms with the fact that they had no hatchlings to care for, they sat apart on different branches. They were quite difficult to see through the leafy branches, but I became adept at spotting their football-shaped and sized silhouettes.

Finally, about a month after they arrived, our two owls did not return one morning after their night out. While the squirrels and chipmunks that quickly returned to our back yard after a month's absence were likely happy that the owls had moved on, my wife and I missed seeing them each day. Now again, like those owls, we were empty nesters.

Barcroft School News

This has been a busy fall at Bancroft Elementary School with field trips, music concerts and lots of workshops. Our students are working hard, getting smart, and having fun!

Thank you to all our Barcroft neighbors that supported the Election Day Bake Sale. We love seeing you, hearing your Barcroft stories and having your support. Thanks to the funds raised by the bake sale and other fundraisers, the PTA was able to start a new staff mini-grant program. This fall, we funded six mini-grants including a new rug for the art room, water coolers for the cafeteria, book bags for students, Apple TV for a classroom, games for the famed lending library, and laminating supplies (our teachers love to laminate)!

Thank you also to all who braved the rain for the Snowball Stride 5K on December 15th. We loved running with our staff, students, and neighbors.

Barrett School News

At the time of this writing, Barrett families are enjoying a two-week winter break and return to school Monday, January 7th. The new turf on the Barrett playground is expected to be completed in time for students' return. Hopefully the weather will be warm and dry enough in early 2019 for a lot of outdoor recess!

In December, Barrett announced its nominations for APS Employee of the Year in a variety of categories: Teacher of the Year: Andrea Donovan; Assistant of the Year: Jennifer Buckley; Office Staff of the Year: Stephanie Matadial; Custodian of the Year: Blanca Castillo; and Extended Day Staff of the Year: Xavier Cooper. The Barrett community congratulates these outstanding individuals and thanks them for their exceptional service to Barrett students and families!

2018 also marked the five-year anniversary of the arrival of Barrett's principal, Dan Redding. Mr. Redding was born in Vermont and moved to Centreville, Virginia, in 1985. He graduated from Chantilly High School and the University of Virginia with a B.A. in history and an M.A. in elementary education. Mr. Redding taught at Abingdon Elementary and Oak Ridge Elementary, was a school technology coordinator for Barcroft, Glencarlyn, Jamestown, and Gunston, and served as assistant principal at Kenmore Middle School and Carlin Springs Elementary. He also worked in the APS Central Office as director of employee relations. This fall, Mr. Redding was spotted participating in Bingo Night, enjoying author visits, reading at the book fair, attending the heritage assembly, and judging the 5th grade poetry slam.

When the NASA InSight Lander landed on Mars in November, students watched live from the Barrett Discovery Lab. They were extra excited because Barrett names were on the mission! NASA etched names on a microchip that sits on top of the lander, and Barrett was the first elementary school in Virginia to be selected for the NASA Explorer School program, which invests in STEM to inspire and engage future scientists, engineers, and technicians.

Uniquely Friendly Neighborhood?

As the holidays wind to a close, I think about what a colleague asked me a few months back—"Arlington Forest: that is a uniquely friendly neighborhood, isn't it?"

In the past couple months, we've been to a Halloween fire-pit with s'mores, a few holiday parties, one of which is in its 20th year, some New Year's Eve festivities, and a New Year's brunch, in its first year (which I hope becomes a long-running tradition). This neighborhood always seems to come together, not just to celebrate holidays, but also when neighbors are experiencing challenges. It is what makes this such a great place to live. Why is it "uniquely friendly," though? Is it the sidewalks, so folks walk dogs (and themselves) more? Is it the two parks? Is it the size—larger than many Arlington neighborhoods? Is it less transient than many other Arlington neighborhoods? (It is.) Probably all of the above and more. Either way, it's a place I call home and love. Call anytime to talk about the neighborhood or your real estate needs.
